

DECISION OF THE MONETARY POLICY COMMITTEE

Meeting Date: June 14, 2007

Committee Members

Durmuş Yılmaz (Governor), Erdem Başçı, Burhan Göklemmez, M. İbrahim Turhan, Mehmet Yörükoğlu.

The Monetary Policy Committee (The Committee) decided to keep short-term interest rates (policy rates) unchanged as follows:

- a) Overnight Interest Rates: Borrowing rate at 17.50 percent, and lending rate at 22.50 percent,
- b) Late Liquidity Window Interest Rates: Borrowing rate applied between 4:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m. at 13.50 percent, lending rate at 25.50 percent,
- c) The interest rate on overnight and one-week maturity borrowing facilities provided for primary dealers via repo transactions at 21.50 percent.

Recent data on economic activity is broadly consistent with the outlook presented in the April Inflation Report. While the slowdown in private demand becomes more pronounced, foreign demand remains strong. Aggregate demand conditions increasingly support disinflation. Against this background, inflation is expected to maintain its downward trend. However, the Committee decided to keep the policy rates unchanged against the risks such as the gap between inflation expectations and targets, the backward looking pricing behavior, the remaining uncertainties –notwithstanding recent favorable developments– over services price inflation, rising oil prices, and prevailing uncertainties.

The lagged effects of monetary tightening exercised since June 2006 are quite noticeable. Besides, the potential impacts of the progress in the structural reform agenda and the developments in incomes policy as well as public sector non-interest expenditures on inflation and inflation expectations are carefully evaluated. Within this framework, the Committee assesses that meeting the medium term inflation targets requires the maintenance of the tight policy stance.

It should be emphasized that any new data or information related to the inflation outlook will lead the Committee to reconsider its stance.

A brief summary of the assessments of the Committee will be released within eight working days.
